Project promoter: Trade Union “Metalicy”

Project partners: Bulgarian association of metallurgical industry (BAMI), FSS Metarom-Romania, FSLI Metal-Romania, SMetal-Romania, Sier-Macedonia, Federacion de Industria de CC.OO)-Spain, FO Metaux- France

With the support of the European metalworkers' federation

Restructuring is the core of many and different phenomena which influence labour relations, working conditions, workers' health and professional development and flexibility and security of labour markets. Obviously, the present crisis not only brings restructuring at the top of national and European agendas but also requires changes, new thinking, understanding and new practices for coping with the new realities and to response to the new challenges.

Project aims:

- Support to social partners for: Strengthening of social dialogue, responsibility and exchange of knowledge in the restructuring process in the metal industry in the EU Member and Candidate states; Promotion of dissemination of information and sharing of experience and innovations in the restructuring process in the metal industry in the EU Member and Candidate states.
- Support to the restructuring process through analysis of metal sector, dissemination of examples of well-managed restructuring and exchange of experience on how to cope with the significant changes in the economic and employment conditions, affecting the well-being of workers.

- Support to employees and attendants and their well-being in the companies through promotion of the application of information and consultation mechanisms in the undertakings.
- Support to the EU and national legislation aimed at framing the rules that allow the restructuring to be anticipated and managed.

The project is addressed to the needs of social partners in metal industry: it aims to develop their skills, knowledge and understanding of restructuring; to support the company prosperity and well-being of workers in terms of globalizing market, economic changes and new challenges in the relations between Labour and Capital. The deep survey of the restructuring process in the new economical reality will be the emphasis in the exchange of good practice at regional, national and European level.

The project activities will give social partners in metal sector an opportunity to participate actively in the working out of new policies that address simultaneously the issues of flexibility of labour market and work organisation, labour relations, employment, social security and flexicurity in order to achieve the objectives of the Growth and Jobs Strategy and thus will contribute to the carrying out of the European Social Model and values it embodies.
